WEDDINGS.

One of the happiest and most beautiful appointed affairs of the month was the "chickadee" given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. C. H. Campbell in honor of Miss Fannie Smith.

In the decorations beautiful white chrysanthemums were intermingled with ferns and dainty ropes of smilax, in compliment to the Woman's club colors of green and white. In rich contrast, brilliant autumn leaves from Maine, Mrs. Campbell's former home, were scattered effectively over the tablecloth, and on the curtains of the parlor and dining room.

Mrs. M. P. Schuster, on behalf of the directors of the Woman's club and other old club friends, presented Miss Smith with an exquisite wedding gift of silver knives, forks and spoons. Mrs. Schuster beautifully expressed the love and good wishes of the club women in a most gracious manner.

Another pleasing feature of the affair was the presentation to Miss Smith, in which each guest had written her favorite recipe, her favorite quotation, and also advice on "How to manage a husband."

Mrs. Campbell was assisted in serving her guests by her daughter, Miss Flora Campbell, Miss Marian Campbell, Mesdames George F. Tilton and Mrs. H. P. Jackson presiding at the chocolate table.

The bride entered the church with Judge J. M. Goggin, who gave her in marriage. At the altar, the groom, accompanied by the minister, awaited them.

The bride was very becomingly gowned in a tailored suit of blue cloth, trimmed with velvet. A black velvet toque adorned with gold poppies completed this very becoming costume. A bouquet of bride's roses and ferns, in shower effect, was carried.

Following a wedding dinner given at the bride's home, the newly wedded couple left for their future home in Durango, Mexico.

The bride is a charming young woman of Belton, Texas, who has lived in El Paso the last three years, and has here many friends.

Miss Clark, who is the first debutante of the season, is a beautiful and popular young woman, and will be the inspiration for many delightful social affairs.

In the receiving line greeting the guests were Judge Clark, Miss Frances Clark and her guest, Miss Lillian Newton, of Peoria, Ill.

Miss Clark was gowned in a beautiful creation of pale blue and white satin, in empire effect, with over dress of chiffon and lace, the waist daintily spangled with crystal beading. She carried an exquisite arm bouquet of American beauties.

Miss Newton was charming in a gown of white satin and ermine chiffon. The waist was adorned with buckles formed of the chiffon, and an arm bouquet of American beauties was carried.

From the first strains of the grand march, which was led by Miss Clark and Judge Waters Davis, to the dying strains of "Home, Sweet Home," the beautiful ballroom of the Toltce was an animated kaleidoscope of changing color, the elaborate gowning of the women adding much to the charming effect and lending warmth and color to the scene.

The eighth number on the dance program was a polka, which was one of the charming features of the evening, the favors being most attractive.

The lantern figure in which the lights were turned low, and Japanese lanterns given as favors, was especially unique and beautiful.
